

Biography

Gregory Bond, CFA

Chief Executive Officer, Man Numeric

Gregory ('Greg') Bond is CEO of Man Numeric, Head of the Americas for Man Group, and a special advisor to Man Group's multi-strategy funds. He also serves on the Man Group Executive Committee and the Man Numeric Investment Committee.

Previously, Greg was director of research at Man Numeric, responsible for research initiatives, including the day-to-day management of Man Numeric's strategic alpha research team. Prior to joining Man Numeric in 2003, Greg worked as a research associate for Professor Michael E. Porter at Harvard Business School.

Greg holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in economics and in biology, magna cum laude, from Yale University and a Master of Business Administration degree from Harvard Business School with distinction. He is a CFA charterholder.